STOP PRESS: 9 RQR Becomes Largest Battalion

In figures released by Army Headquarters in May 2009, 9 RQR has grown to become the largest Reserve Battalion in the Australian Army.

‘Not only are we strong in numbers on the books but we are now parading well over 300 soldiers every Tuesday night,’ the Commanding Officer, Lieutenant Colonel Michael Bond, said when the news broke. ‘With the soldiers at the top of our tree, we are parading stronger than ever.’
